REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School board of the Town of Hopkinton:

GENTLEMEN,—I respectfully submit the following report, with its recommendations and suggestions, trusting that you and the voters of the town will give it favorable consideration:

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

It is a pleasure for me to report, and I am sure it will be a pleasure for you to know, that I consider the schools of Hopkinton at the present doing the most satisfactory work in all lines that has been done since my connection with them. There may have been schools a year ago that were doing equally good or better work in certain lines; there may have been teachers doing as good or better teaching in certain lines; but the work of the schools as a whole and the teaching in general is now the best that I have seen it.

The inability to readily express one's thoughts, or to reproduce the thought of the printed page when read or listened to, referred to last year in my report as a serious defect in all the schools, has been very perceptibly improved, thanks to the patient and persistent work of all the teachers. This is no less true in the high school than in the grades. Perhaps no class in high school has made such marked improvement in this respect as the present senior class; due in large part, doubtless, to the formation of the "Literary Club."

This is an organization of the junior and senior classes which once a week meets in place of a regular English recitation, and under parliamentary regulations reproduces and discusses articles of interest found in the "Literary Digest." I most heartily approve of this method of familiarizing the great questions and events of the times.

The high school is doing work of a very high order in all its departments. I have but the highest commendation for the results achieved there so far this year. I consider the present corps of teachers an exceptionally strong one for a small school to possess.

It may not be out of place to here state that the Hopkinton High School does fit for college. It is approved by the State Department of Education and by both Dartmouth and New Hampshire State colleges. It has in the past sent several students to college, and now has representatives at both our state colleges. A graduate of the class of 1915 was admitted last September to Dartmouth on certificate from our high school. At the end of the first semester he passed examinations in every subject. I speak of this because several citizens this past year have asked me about it, saying that they had been informed to the contrary. I trust this statement will suffice to correct any mistaken ideas relative to the inefficiency of the high school in this respect.

In June last twenty-five pupils took the examinations for high school. Three only were from out of town. Twenty-two of the number entered high school last September and twenty-one are there now.

The grade schools this year are making special effort to raise the standard of work done by them and are succeeding as well as could reasonably be expected.

A very pleasing feature in all our grade schools this year is the spirit of activity, application, good interest and general attitude of work so manifest in every room I visit. This fact in itself indicates good teaching.

The appropriation for introducing music in the schools has been very judiciously expended and the results have been highly satisfactory. Hopkinton Village, West Hopkinton and Contoocook schools have enjoyed this opportunity offered them and unquestionably profited by it.

REPAIRS.

The improvements made, within and without, in the general appearance of the school buildings at Fannington's Corner, Main Road and Hatfield, were along right lines and are very pleasing. This work was greatly appreciated by pupils, teachers and parents especially interested in these three schools. Further improvements should be made this year to make these buildings more fully comply with state requirements. I refer particularly to having proper seats, lights, ventilation and heat.

BOOKS AND SUPPLIES.

The supplies needed for the coming year will not vary materially from those of last year. We have a fairly good supply of text-books and supplementary readers, but not an adequate supply.

In addition to extra text-books and more supplementary reading matter, it will be necessary to purchase an entirely new set of physiologies and many new language books. Those we have are decidedly dilapidated and out of date and most of them should be displaced.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

The most of our school buildings are in good condition. The necessary repairs are minor ones. The high school should be painted either this year or next. Before some of our buildings meet requirements, windows will have to be removed from their present location and inserted elsewhere, stoves will need to be jacketed, the old non-adjustable seats and desks replaced by adjustable ones, and the painted wooden blackboards replaced with slate. A few closets will need attention.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

I recommend that in those schoolhouses not conforming to state requirements in the matter of heat, light, seats, blackboards and sanitary arrangements in general, such a beginning may be made this year, that in three years at most, they may in all respects meet the requirements and approval of the state departments of health and education.

I recommend that the Hopkinton primary room receive early attention. It needs new seats and desks and a new floor. The "Farrington's Corner" school needs new seats and desks and slate blackboards. The closet at this school is unsanitary and entirely unfit. If nothing else be done at this school this year the closet arrangement should be attended to.

The "Main Road" school should at least have some slate blackboards this year.

I trust the town will vote a liberal appropriation for furniture and repairs that our schoolhouses may be made a better abiding place for our children and nearer in accord with what is recognized as an up-to-date school building.

I called your attention last year to the fact that the domestic science department of the high school would soon need more room. Two classes have used the room this year under disadvantages without complaint. Next year three classes will be taking this work and unless more room can be provided the difficulties of conducting the required work will be much complicated. This matter demands serious consideration.

I would further recommend that in all our schoolhouses, where the number of pupils remaining to dinner would warrant it, provision be made for serving something hot with their lunch. This can be done at small expense and with great benefit to the pupils.

SUGGESTIONS.

I thoroughly believe in the social side of education. It seems to me that more social functions in the high school-room, under control of the school authorities and a system of patronesses, would afford unobjectionable opportunities in a social way that now are sadly lacking. There are too few social occasions of the right sort to satisfy the natural tendencies of our young people. They will seek them somewhere. Cannot the school offer them under such conditions as to safeguard the young people from those dangers so often accompanying the uncontrolled social affairs?

At present there is no suitable room in the high school building for a social function. Any attempt at such meets with difficulties and limitations almost prohibitive because of the fixed desks and chairs.

I would therefore suggest that the high schoolroom, known as the "Perkins Room," be equipped with adjustable "movable chair desks," a combination of seat and desk not attached to the floor and, therefore, capable of being moved about to any desired position.

These "chair desks" are being installed in many of the modern school buildings because of their adaptability to recitation groupings and the varied requirements and uses for chairs in the schoolroom. They also are more sanitary than the ordinary desk and chair.

With the room equipped with this kind of furniture it could easily be arranged as a hall and afford ample room for social features. The schoolroom could then become something of a social centre in the community, at least so far as the pupils were concerned, and social functions could be enjoyed without the necessity of hiring a place as now. This would apply, of course, to the smaller social functions of the school, not to the larger ones to which the public are invited.

The music teaching in the schools could be supplemented and its historical, cultural, artistic and educational value materially enhanced by the wise use of a "Victrola." By wise use, I mean using it as an educational means and not solely as an instrument of pleasure.

It means but little to the pupil to study the lives of composers and learn lists of their famous compositions.

It means much to learn of the temperament and consequent characteristics of a composer as recognized in his selections. The Victrola brings to the schoolroom the opportunity of hearing and thereby learning to distinguish the characteristic style of the different composers, as well as to study and recognize real musical harmony. It affords the opportunity to study both the composer and his works in a way that tends to develop real musical appreciation. To the great majority of our boys and girls it is the only way they will ever hear or learn to appreciate the best in music.

I consider the Victrola a valuable educational tool when properly used. I suggest that one be purchased for such use as I have mentioned.

I wish to express my pleasure in working with you as a school board; a pleasure because of your interest in the schools and your business-like way of dealing with school matters.
